2026-2027 President

Official Publication of Ohio Business & Professional Women
Vol. 65 No. 2 Fall 2026

Dear BPW Sisters,

I love going from season to season in Ohio and seeing families, friends, and their fur animals enjoying activities with each new season. With fall, we see splashes of color in the leaves, pumpkins and harvest decorations being strategically placed around porches, ooey gooey smores being made around bonfires, cool apple cider, hot chocolate, marching band competitions, and football, volleyball, and soccer games. I especially love reading books while cozying up with a warm fuzzy blanket and hot vanilla chai tea. Hmmm. Are you smiling yet? Are your senses alert?

The Executive Committee has been very hard at work. I mentioned last year as President Elect it was one of my main goals to try to update our bylaws and bring us to where we currently are as an organization. Linda Wiegand has been so helpful in assisting the EC as we have spent hours going over every section of the bylaws and trying to see what recommendations should be made to them. We have had a lot of discussions regarding technology, costs, and our current membership and leadership makeup, and I think we have come up with some useful changes to the bylaws for not only our Board, but for all of you, our Membership! We are working hard for you to better our organization. If you have not done so yet, please get those surveys sent to us quickly. Mail them, email them, send them via the QR code…however you wish to do so, but please do send them. We cannot make sure we are doing what we should be doing as an organization without all members' input and consideration. No idea should be left unsaid!

Our August Board meeting was held at Coshocton, and we discussed our upcoming conference that will be occurring in Coshocton. I am excited to report that we will be spending some time together visiting the "19th century canal era village" called Roscoe Village. It will be a different and unique experience for us, and I hope you will enjoy it. I encourage you to look up Roscoe Village online and see what a fascinating area it will be for us to explore! Our next Board meeting will be November 7th. Continue to spread kindness in your daily busy lives and be helpful to others. I look forward to seeing all of you soon!

In loving kindness,
Chandra

How Do You Get Your Groceries?

How do you get your groceries? Do you order them online and have them delivered? Do you order them and pick them up? Or do you physically go into a store, move through the aisles, and select your own items?

Our world changed in many ways when we experienced the COVID-19 pandemic. One of those changes was how we shop. Online grocery shopping and delivery became increasingly common, offering convenience and flexibility that many of us continue to value today. We learned that when faced with extraordinary circumstances, we can find new options that fit our lives—and that adaptability can be a good thing.

Today, we can remain in place and have many of the things we want delivered directly to our homes. Could we have imagined twenty years ago the proliferation of delivery trucks traveling through our neighborhoods and communities, bringing our purchases directly to our doorsteps? It has become common—and even expected—that what we want can be brought to us quickly, sometimes within days and, in some communities, even the same day.

But not everything can be ordered and delivered to us.

We cannot order members and have them conveniently delivered to BPW. Membership still requires what it has always required: going out, making connections, and having conversations with prospective members about BPW. Person-to-person communication and genuine encounters create opportunities for potential members to discover why BPW might have meaning for them.

Every member has a reason for joining. Every prospective member has a reason that may simply remain undiscovered until someone takes the time to make a personal connection.

That is why personal contact must remain an important part of effective membership recruitment and sustainability. At the same time, if there is anything we can learn from the way we buy groceries today, it is that adaptability is essential to sustainability. We make changes in response to changing circumstances because doing so helps us survive and thrive.

As an organization, we must adapt to the current needs and realities of women in today's workforce. Convenience, time, scheduling, family responsibilities, technology, and changing workplace expectations all influence a woman's ability to participate in an organization. We need to understand those realities and consider how BPW Ohio can respond in ways that make participation meaningful, accessible, and worthwhile.

Our challenge is not to choose between personal connection and adaptation. We need both. We need to continue going out into our communities, having conversations, building relationships, and inviting women to become part of BPW. At the same time, we must be willing to examine how we meet, communicate, engage, and serve our members.

Our ability to adapt—regardless of whether we are facing a life-threatening pandemic or simply a changing world—must remain at the forefront of our collective thinking.

We cannot have BPW members delivered to our doorstep. But we can create an organization that makes women want to walk through our door.

State Board Meeting August 22, 2026

The Coshocton Local graciously hosted the August board meeting. Sheila Mayse is their President, and they did such a nice job incorporating Madam President's theme. She feels truly blessed by how hard they worked. The meal was wonderful, the decorations amazing, and Coshocton BPW members' outfits were perfect!

2026 – 2027 BPW Programming Form

This year we are continuing to think in and out of the box, focusing on fresh new ways to empower women (and men) through kindness. Our goal will be to help them to discover and develop the power within. Through creative programs, we have the opportunity to nurture their growth and become stronger in their everyday lives, both in and out of their professional world. But the process need not be staid and conventional. The serious issues that we face can be presented (and better remembered) with kindness, humor, entertainment, and yes, FUN!

If it sounds a little crazy, do it! And do it with kindness!
