PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Dear BPW Members,

Just for a moment, imagine that you are in a situation where discrimination, violence, or harassment is occurring. You know that whatever is happening is wrong or dangerous or discriminatory to someone else, and that others are seeing and hearing the same thing. But you notice that no one is speaking up, speaking out, or calling for help. What would you, as a bystander, do?

When Board and other BPW members gathered for the August meeting at Maumee Bay State Park, as they were treated to a presentation by guest speaker Dr. Jennifer McCary who posed that very question. In her interactive session on Bystander Intervention, Dr. McCary gave tips and suggestions about how to deal with those situations in public and in the workplace and how we can support women by intervening when, perhaps, no one else does, thereby becoming an “upstander” for women.

As you probably recall, the motto or theme for this year is “In BPW, we’ll try (almost) anything to support women.” When we become “upstanders” for women, when we take the initiative to support them in the workplace, when we advocate for equal opportunities and equal pay, when we speak up about issues on the ballot, when we seek out health care for all women, regardless of income, or race, or age; when we provide assistance to those women who are victims of crime, especially domestic violence, we all live that motto or theme. Then, we live out the very platform issues that are at the core of what makes BPW/ OHIO the leading advocate for not just working women, but all women. That’s our mission; that’s our vision, that’s trying what will keep us from being mere, silent witnesses to the many ways in which women need help and support.

Back to the question I asked at Leadership Training: “What will you do – in your life, in your Local, in your Region – to support women?” How can BPW become “upstanders’ not just “bystanders”?

Best Personal Wishes,

Lora Manon

2025-2026 President

2025-26 OHIO BPW Nominating Chair

Liz Herrell, Coshocton/Zanesville BPW

For 105 years Ohio BPW has been empowering women. NOW is the time for YOU to be empowered by running for a State Office. Here are some comments from past state officers:

Stephanie Bridwell, PSP: “When I was first approached about taking the state vice president, I said “Heck no!” I have a full-time job, family commitments, and other volunteer work in my community – there’s no time in my life for yet another meeting. I had held offices at the local and regional level and thought this would be similar. Wow, was I wrong, and in the best possible way. We have a similar situation this year, and I am writing today to encourage you all to step up, step out, and consider getting more involved with our state organization. I hope by sharing my story you can see the possibilities that exist for you.” (sbridwell@columbus.rr.com)

Amelia Taggart, PSP: “I don’t have time for one more thing! Like many BPW members I’m busy, kids in school, kid’s activities, work, work activities, deciding what’s for dinner, making dinner, cleaning. Who even has time to clean the house, let alone scrub the toilets? We all do these things and lead busy lives, but, we make time for the things that are important to us. To those of you who feel BPW is important and feel that we need to sustain this organization, not only for us, but for women in the future – I’m asking you to be on the Board. Please reach out to me any time (I don’t sleep)..” (ameliapro@yahoo.com)

No one has time to be a State Officer, but you can find the time, as these two outstanding officers have shown. You must complete the Candidate Form which includes your local president’s signature, a recent photo, and the Statement of Specific Expertise. That’s it! Very painless. Looking forward to receiving your nomination forms! (lizywca@columbus.rr.com)

2025-26 OHIO BPW Membership Chair

DOROTHY KOVACH, Ohio Valley BPW

The Power of “Why”

When I meet you for the first time, I love to ask one question: What’s your “why”? Why are you here? Why are you a member of BPW?

Although your reasons may vary, your underlying motivation is the same—because you believe in our mission. Because you believe in equity for all women in the workplace. Because you believe in empowering women through advocacy, education, and information.

That’s powerful. That’s what unites us. And it’s what has united working women for more than a hundred years.

But here’s the thing: your “why” isn’t just for you. It’s a light. And it shines brighter when you share it.

So share it! Tell people about the work we’re doing. Host events that advocate, educate, and connect. Get creative—bring women together face-to-face. Put our work in the spotlight. Let your community, your coworkers, and yes—even the media—know the difference BPW is making. And above all—ask.

Think back: Did someone ask you to join? Did someone say, “Come see what BPW is about”? That simple invitation changed your path. And now it’s your turn.

Ask people why they care about women’s equity. Ask what challenges they’re facing. And then—invite them in. Invite them to join this mission, this movement, this sisterhood.

Because the truth is—our future members are out there right now. They’re waiting for you to ask.

So let’s get out there. Let’s shine our light. Let’s grow into the future.

Completion of the Individual Development (ID) program, within the last 3 years, is required in order to participate in the ID Speech Competition. CAROL HOLTON, Toledo BPW

The Virginia Allen Young Careerist program was established in the 1960's and was announced as one of two BPW's Signature Programs along with Individual Development program. This program was designed to let young women who were working full time, attending an education program or a training program full time enhance their written and oral communication skills. Candidates need to be between 21-35 years of age (inclusive by May 31, 2026). Initially, candidates were young women. Now candidates can be women or men (BPW has been open to men as members of BPW for quite some time). Candidates must support the goals and objectives of the BPW/OHIO Legislative Platform. Candidates need to compose a 4-minute speech with their topic to align with BPW's Legislative Platform. Local BPW organizations are able to send as many candidates to represent their Local to their Region meeting. The Regions are allowed to send only one (1) candidate to the State Speak off.

Candidates need to be aware of four (4) important dates which are listed below:

YC's 2025-2026 Theme is ASK!

2025-26 OHIO BPW Legislation Chair

LEONA PHILLIPS, Vermilion BPW

Lobby Day September 24, 2025 - We have a very impressive number of 13 members and a non-member joining us for the Lobby Day. By the time you read this issue, we will have already made our presence known in Columbus visiting our representatives and senators. Redistricting is our focus. I am sure you all are aware as I have been emailing a CALL TO ACTION to mail postcards to your reps and to make phone calls or email. The redistricting process will go on through the end of the year so continue to make your voices heard for bipartisan congressional fair maps.

There is legislation that is currently in the Ohio legislature to be aware of.

There is still an attack on women's reproductive choices. In Nov 2023 57% of Ohio voters approved Issue 1, a ballot initiative that created a constitutional amendment to protect the right to abortion and other reproductive decisions. Several house bills have been introduced to take those rights away, again. HB 370 "Ohio Prenatal Equal Protection Act" introduced on the floor in June 2025 would ban all abortions, criminalize those who have them, and potentially outlaw in-vitro fertilization and some contraceptives. All this with NO exceptions. HB 347 "SHE Wins Act" and the HB 324 "Enact Patient Protection Act" presents excessive hurdles for the medical processes. Both are already moving along to committees and the senate. Also, HB 87 "The STORK Act" would grant constitutional rights to an embryo from the moment of conception under the guise of child tax credits, potentially opening the door to criminalizing pregnant individuals. We need to hold our representatives and senators accountable. The language in the bills can bury important issues that we need to stay on top of.

On a positive note, HB 2 was introduced in Jan to establish a cost-sharing program for childcare among employers, employees, and the state. HB 29 requires correctional facilities to provide female inmates with free feminine hygiene products and access to hot water and showers. In the Senate, SB 178 has been assigned to committee in April that would create a task force to address the disproportionately high rates of missing Black, Indigenous and women and girls of color in Ohio.

We are also watching the Equal Rights Amendment. The Ohio Ballot Board ruled that the proposal contains two amendments, preventing it from moving forward. One amendment would eliminate Ohio's ban on gay marriage in the Ohio constitution. The second amendment would protect citizens from discrimination based on race, color, creed or religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression regardless of sex assigned at birth, pregnancy status, genetic information, disease status, age, disability, recovery status, familial status, ancestry, national origin, or military and veteran status. The Ohio Equal Rights group can either challenge the ruling through the Ohio Supreme Court or collect 1,000 signatures for each of the two amendments and petition Ohio Attorney General Dave Yost to certify the title and summary language. We need to keep pushing for our equal rights under the law.

BPW/Ohio Board Meeting Recap

Maumee Bay State Park in Oregon, Ohio was the site of the BPW/Ohio Board Meeting, August 23, 2025.

Between the President's welcome, taking care of BPW business, various reports, looking out the window at Lake Erie, and singing the emblem benediction, there was an engaging speaker.

Dr. Jennifer McCary serves as the Chief Culture and Brand Experience Officer at the Toledo Museum of Art. She excels in many fields and has received multiple honors.

Dr. McCary encouraged interactive discussions. She presented life situations and asked how a person would respond.

President Lora Manon (r) presents a gift to speaker, Dr. Jennifer McCary.

Ohio Valley BPW Awards Scholarships and Plans a Full Year of Events

The Ohio Valley Business and Professional Women's Club proudly awarded five $1,000 scholarships at its May meeting. Scholarship Chair Sara Lane shared that the club received 36 applications this year, with funds for the awards raised through the annual Wine and Shoe Extravaganza.

This summer, members and guests came together at Scafiddi's Restaurant & Tavern for a lively Limoncello Social, where they enjoyed food, drinks, and great company.

As the new season begins, Ohio Valley BPW has planned a full calendar of meetings and events designed to inspire, empower, and connect. Programs will focus on building connections, strengthening women's wealth, developing strategies to achieve personal and professional goals, celebrating the holidays, promoting self-care, supporting women-owned businesses, and understanding legal protections.

The year will close with the highly anticipated Wine & Shoe Extravaganza and the Scholarship Dinner, where the 2026 scholarship recipients will be recognized. Ohio Valley BPW looks forward to a year of growth, learning, and community.
